2nd Crusade

All Christendom was shocked by the fall of EDESSA to ZANGI, the governor of MOSUL, who had set out to control Syria, both Moslem and Christian. This threat induced the POPE and ST. BERNARD of CLAIRVAUX to preach a new Crusade.

Led by Louis VII of France and emperor CONRAD III of Germany, the 2nd Crusade (1147-1149) was a complete failure. The armies were separately defeated
